1. Prior to early December 1950, no Polish or Soviet troops were stationed in Kartuzy (P 55/Y 12); no Soviet troop units had been seen in the Kartuzy district since the end of 1945 when they withdrew. The nearest Polish military post was Wejherowo (P 55/Y 25) where several Polish troop units were said to be stationed. *
2. One district office of the UB (Security Police) and one of the MO (Militia) were located in Kartuzy. The UB personnel wore green-brown uniforms with stand-up collars similar to those of the Polish Army until late 1949; however, they were furnished steel-blue uniforms with rectangular red collar patches on their lapels and blue vizor-type caps with red bands in 1950. **
3. Prior to December 1950, no military units were stationed in Tuchola (P 54/N 70), nor were any barracks installations located there.
4. Prior to December 1950, no Soviet or Polish troops were in the town or the county of Koscierzyna (P 55/N 66). No barracks installation was located in the town.
